

Nick Dahl, Deputy Assistant Inspector General, VA OIG

Nick Dahl has been a Deputy Assistant Inspector General for VA's Office of Inspector General since October 2016. In this role, Nick is responsible for leading eleven regional field offices, and a staff of about 150 auditors, management analysts, information technology specialists, and contract specialists. These offices provide oversight of VA's activities in order to ensure the integrity of its programs and operations. Major focuses of their work includes health care management, financial management, information technology, procurement, and major and minor construction.