

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is seeking an individual in the OIG community to work on a reimbursable 90 - 120 day detail beginning May 27, 2018 (which could be extended for an additional 90-120 days upon mutual agreement) to serve as Acting FTC Inspector General (IG), until the recruitment and appointment of a new, permanent Inspector General is completed. FTC management envisions that an Acting Inspector General would have the same authorities as a permanent IG. The IG office is a small office consisting of approximately 7 FTE, and contractor support. Please note that the person serving in the Acting IG position will not be eligible to apply for the permanent position to ensure there is no appearance of unfair advantage.

Applicants must be current career members of the Senior Executive Service (SES). The Qualifications and Duties are listed below:

Qualifications:

1. Experience in supervising OIG investigations, audits, and evaluations in a federal Office of Inspector General.
2. Experience in overseeing evaluations and audits of federal information security and privacy programs, federal contracting, audits of other federal programs and activities, and federal financial statement audits.
3. Experience in actively participating in the day-to-day activities of OIG investigations, audits, and program evaluations, including regular engagement with management on its efforts to implement open OIG recommendations.
4. Experience in managing a small or medium-sized federal OIG, including congressional reporting, budget, personnel, and associated administrative duties.

Duties:

The Federal Trade Commission is a bipartisan federal agency with a unique dual mission to protect consumers and promote competition. For over one hundred years, the FTC has championed the interests of American consumers, and is dedicated to advancing consumer interests while encouraging innovation and competition in our dynamic economy. Further information about the Commission can be found on its website at www.ftc.gov. Further information about the FTC Office of Inspector General can be found at <https://www.ftc.gov/about-ftc/office-inspector-general>.

The Inspector General oversees multi-disciplinary staff and support contractors that conduct:

- performance audits that address the efficiency, effectiveness, and economy of the FTC's programs, activities, and functions; provide information to responsible parties to improve public accountability; facilitate oversight and decision making; and initiate corrective actions;
- financial audits that provide an independent assessment of whether agency financial statements are presented fairly in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
- evaluations, which are systematic and independent assessments of the design, implementation, and/or results of the FTC's operations, programs, or policies;
- investigations based on alleged or suspected fraud, waste, abuse, or gross mismanagement; employee or contractor misconduct; or criminal and civil violations of law that affect the FTC's programs and operations; and also issue
- management advisories that enable the OIG to expeditiously report findings of systemic weaknesses or vulnerabilities identified in the course of an audit, investigation or other OIG activity.

The FTC OIG main offices are located at Constitution Center, 400 7th Street, SW, at the L'Enfant Plaza Metro.

Persons interested in applying for the Acting Inspector General position should forward their resume and an SF-50 showing career SES status by Wednesday, May 9, 2018 to both:

- Allison Lerner, Vice Chair, Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency, and Inspector General, National Science Foundation at LernerA@nsf.gov, and
- Vicki Barber, Chief Human Capital Officer, Federal Trade Commission at vbarber@ftc.gov
