Summary Statement

The Federal Communications Commission Office of Inspector General (FCC OIG) is seeking a highly motivated, high-performing Auditor to serve in a reimbursable 6-month detail as Auditor (Information Technology Performance) for the Office of Audits. This position is full-time, in person at FCC OIG's office located at 45 L Street, NE, in Washington, DC, near NOMA/Union Station.

To qualify for this position, applicants must have served in an audit, evaluations, or inspection capacity within an Office of Inspector General for at least 3 years, must currently encumber at least a General Schedule-12-0511 position within the IG community.

FCC OIG is an exciting place to work. In addition to a complex portfolio of audits, evaluations, inspections and reviews our office has a strong history of proactive work aimed at preventing fraud, waste, and abuse. We perform oversight for a diverse set of important programs aimed at promoting connectivity, ensuring national security and more. We are looking for a dynamic candidate to help support our audit, evaluations, inspections, and review enforcement capabilities.

Beyond technical capabilities and expertise, the candidate must possess excellent collaboration, oral and written communication skills, and knowledge of OIG audit, evaluation, and inspection programs, policies, procedures, operations, OIG statutes, and best practices.

Summary of Duties:

In this role, the Auditor (Information Technology/Performance) will perform one or more of the following activities.

- Carries out agile work, as warranted, to maximize transparency around issues identified by audits, inspections, and evaluations.
- Conducts comprehensive program performance audits in accordance with Generally Accepted Government Auditing Standards (GAGAS) to assist management with identifying waste, fraud, and abuse in FCC programs.
- Overseeing the work of external contract auditors conducting the annual Federal Information Security Management Act (FISMA) evaluation.
- Conducts inspections and evaluations of specialized areas in accordance with the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency (CIGIE) Blue Book to evaluate FCC programs and to assist management in achieving efficiency in methods and procedures for improved control of various program areas. These include a focus on oversight related to FCC's top management and performance challenges, such as safeguarding national security, and promoting public safety.
- Obtains and analyzes sufficient relevant evidence to support significant findings, draw objective conclusions and to identify fraud, waste, and abuse in FCC programs.
- Prepares and maintains accurate, well supported working papers and data files, including data from auditees and the OIG data analytics team, and validate and analyze the data to support engagement objectives.
- Prepares written reports and oral briefings for senior leaders concerning significant findings that cover the conditions discovered, their cause and effect, and the resulting recommendations.
- Perform other duties as assigned.

Highly Recommended Competencies

- Experience leading, planning, and conducting complex audits, evaluations, or inspections involving program administration and/or organization-wide systems and operations;
- Experience assessing internal controls, including processes and procedures related to Information Technology, Information Systems, and/or other matters related to national security;
- Experience conducting and evaluating comprehensive program performance audits in accordance with GAGAS;
- Demonstrated skill in oral communications;
- Exceptional skill in written communications; and
- Professional certifications such as Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Certified Information System Auditor (CISA), or Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) are highly desirable.
