Introduction

The Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency (CIGIE) Fellows Program (CFP) is designed to strengthen enterprise leadership across the government and oversight community by providing OIG professionals with expanded perspective and skillsets to address challenges facing the government. These increasingly complex challenges require leaders to work across agency and organizational boundaries while leveraging networks in order to effectively deliver services to the American people.

The program is focused on talent development and building the next generation of career senior executives within the OIG community. This is accomplished through an interagency rotation focused on the complex, cross-agency challenges that increasingly confront the Federal government, and by strengthening leadership skills through targeted developmental sessions during the fellowship.

The goal of the program is to build a cadre of government oversight leaders with strong inter-agency experience and exposure to a broad cross-section of government. Fellows work on challenging assignments to develop the skillsets and networks that enterprise leaders need, such as a whole-of-government perspective, stakeholder collaboration and engagement, working across boundaries without formal authority, and working outside traditional agency structures.

The CFP requires Fellows to leverage their skills to drive progress on important programs and deliver long-term strategic results. The CFP works closely with CIGIE Committees to allow Fellows to develop a deeper understanding of organizational performance, delivering results, embracing innovation, and focusing on outcomes and effective service delivery.

Program Overview

The CFP is sponsored by the CIGIE Professional Development Committee and supported by CIGIE Training Institute’s Leadership and Mission Support (L&MS) Academy. It’s a 1-year senior leadership development program that includes an interagency rotational assignment within the CIGIE community that is generally outside the Fellow’s area of subject matter expertise.
This provides an opportunity for a diverse cohort of high-potential career employees to develop enterprise leadership skills as they seek to become future Senior Executives. Fellows spend at least 680 work hours (equivalent to 85 workdays or 4 months) in a rotational assignment gaining on-the-job experience. Fellows also attend multiple developmental activities built around the stakeholders, networks, and skillsets that senior leaders need.

This manual provides more information on the program’s nomination and selection process, developmental activities, rotational assignments, roles & responsibilities, and post-program activities. Appendix A contains answers to Frequently Asked Questions.

Program Objectives

- Provide Fellows a broad federal oversight perspective on high-priority challenges and access to senior decision-makers with exposure to a wide cross-section of government.

- Develop a cadre of leaders with executive-level skillsets and networks to address challenges through a cross-agency lens and implement solutions across organizational boundaries.

- Strengthen on-going implementation efforts of cross-agency initiatives important to the CIGIE community that require broad coordination to ensure delivery of tangible results.

- Expose Fellows to new operational procedures within other OIGs; thereby cultivating the exchange of best practices and innovation.

Program Parameters

- This program is open to career GS-14 to GS-15 and equivalent permanent OIG employees, as well as exceptionally qualified GS-13 employees.

- Agencies may nominate up to two candidates to the CFP Program to be considered for inclusion in the program. Admission is competitive and only 20 nominees will be accepted into the 2022 program.

- Program duration is one year: June 2022 – June 2023.

- The rotational assignment is outside of the home agency and may be full-time or part-time, as long as it totals at least 4 months or 680 work hours.
• Program includes multiple leadership developmental activities that Fellows will attend. These are scheduled every 4-6 weeks throughout the year.

• The rotation is non-reimbursable due to its developmental nature.

• A Memorandum of Understanding will be developed between home and host agencies. An MOU template is provided by CIGIE.

• This is not a certified SES candidate development program and there is no guarantee for placement into a Senior Executive Service (SES) position as a result of participation in this program, however, participation does provide experience that may be used in developing Executive Core Qualifications.

• Fellows’ nominations and rotational assignment opportunities to host Fellows are only accepted from OIGs who elected to participate in the program and provided a POC to serve as their CFP Liaison. This has been completed for the 2022 program and 39 OIGs are participating.

• The call for nominations and rotational assignment opportunities is distributed to the CFP Liaisons of the participating OIGs in February 2022, with a deadline to submit nominees or rotational assignment opportunities in April 2022.

Agency Nominations and Rotational Assignment Opportunities

Interested agencies may nominate up to two (2) Fellows Program candidates and submit up to three (3) rotational assignment opportunities. Agencies will determine their own internal processes to select nominees. Nominations should be based on merit staffing principles and follow applicable laws and regulations.

The Inspector General of the agency or their designee must formally nominate candidates to the program. The agency should submit the nominee(s) via the links to the web forms provided in the call for nominations and rotational assignments. There are four web forms: (1) the nominee’s application; (2) the nominee’s supervisor endorsement; (3) the IG or designee nomination approval, and (4) the rotational assignment opportunity form. OIGs do not have to submit both Fellows nominations and rotational assignment opportunities – either one or both are acceptable. Questions can be directed to the CFP Management Team at fellows@cigie.gov. Agencies should ensure that nominees’ direct supervisors have approved of the nominations.

Selection Process

The CFP Management Team implements a rigorous screening process to review the nominations and determine the program finalists.

The CFP Program will extend acceptance invitations to 20 finalists. All candidates will be notified of their status via e-mail at the conclusion of the selection process, anticipated to be early May 2022. Agencies will also be formally notified of their candidates’ status.

Once accepted into the program, Fellows will participate in an orientation and onboarding event, and will also work with their assigned mentor, CFP staff, and home agency supervisor to identify developmental goals.

Rotations

Interagency rotational assignments form an integral component of the Fellows’ experience. Fellows are matched to a rotation assignment that leverages broad skillsets outside of the Fellows’ areas of subject matter expertise. Rotations are not meant to increase technical expertise but rather to provide an opportunity to use leadership and collaboration skills.

Fellows are required to complete a rotation within the prescribed program period in order to successfully graduate from the program. After the orientation and onboarding event, the CFP management team will assist and facilitate matching the Fellows to an appropriate rotation assignment.
in collaboration with the respective CFP Home and Host agency liaisons, assigned SES mentor, and Fellow.

Fellows must spend at least 680 work hours (equivalent to 85 workdays or 4 months) in a rotational assignment. The rotation can be accomplished in either full-time or part-time status and can be up to one year in duration, subject to the terms and conditions negotiated between the Home and Host agency. The ability to complete the rotation assignment in either full-time or part-time status, or combination thereof, ensures maximum flexibility to complete program requirements in balance with the Fellow’s Home agency mission requirements.

The Fellow Experience

CFP Program rotations are challenging assignments that expose Fellows to new cultures, new approaches, an inter-agency perspective, and an enterprise leadership toolkit. Fellows are placed on initiatives with no formal authority and a variety of stakeholders and competing priorities to manage. Fellows may experience:

- Flat Structures – Most rotations involve work and initiatives with flat organizational structures (not typical chain of command), flexible roles, and a fast pace. Fellows will work on multiple levels, on a variety of tasks to achieve results.

- Leading Among Peers – Due to flat organizational environments and stakeholder management, Fellows will coordinate and collaborate among peers and senior level officials. These are often non-traditional leadership roles that require flexibility, entrepreneurship, and vision.

- Stakeholder Management – Fellows will often not have formal authority, nor will they be in rotations where they can simply fall back on their subject matter expertise. To achieve results, Fellows will have to identify stakeholders, build relationships/trust and understand competing priorities and timelines, and work through formal and informal chains of communication to drive collaboration toward a shared goal/outcome.

- Cross-functional – Fellows will be placed in rotations outside of their subject matter areas of expertise to encourage the development and use of leadership skills and tools. This includes taking on new functional roles and leveraging subject matter experts in a variety of fields.

- Rotation Competencies – Fellows must rely on a variety of competencies including emotional intelligence, adaptability, resiliency, agility, political savvy, conceptual/strategic thinking and collaboration.

Developmental Program Cohort Activities

Fellows participate in a variety of developmental Cohort activities throughout the program.

Development Objective:
Provide exposure to the business practices, functional areas, networks, skills and stakeholders that enterprise leaders need to leverage in order to deal with a rapidly changing environment and increasingly cross-agency, cross-jurisdictional challenges. Development focuses on leadership competencies, expanding professional networks, self-awareness, and individual development.

Development Program Outline:

- 3-day virtual orientation and on-boarding (2-3 hours per day)
- Assignment to participate in a CIGIE Committee
- Opportunities for leadership discussions with senior leaders / IGs
- A variety of formal training events and experiences, including Leadership Lessons from Gettysburg, Congressional Update from the Government Affairs Institute at Georgetown University, the CIGIE Leadership Forum, and more
- SES executive core qualification, resume, and interviewing advice
- Opportunities to network with other OIG professionals to facilitate and create a broad network of contacts across government and functional areas

Appendix A: Frequently Asked Questions

How is this program different from other leadership programs?

This program is designed by and for IG professionals in the CIGIE community. The CFP focuses exclusively on high-potential GS-14s, 15s, and exceptionally qualified GS-13s and equivalents who are interested in gaining a unique cross-agency perspective in federal oversight.

Through this program, Fellows participate in leadership development activities and rotational assignments. Experiential and developmental activities will enhance critical skill sets such as leading change, building coalitions, working across government to solve problems, and performance management. This program is aimed at those ready to enter the ranks of senior leadership, as well as developing the pipeline of future career Senior Executives in federal oversight.

Increasingly, the most pressing challenges facing federal oversight cut across organizational boundaries, requiring a workforce that works across agencies to develop solutions that address these challenges and deliver lasting results.

Upon completing the program, participants will take their valuable experience back to their agencies, creating a cadre of enterprise-wide leaders within the federal oversight community.

What happens to the Fellows after the program?

Agencies are encouraged to find other opportunities within the agency for the Fellow – including a new position, project, or other opportunities—to leverage his or her experience as a CFP Fellow to applicable agency goals.

Following the end of the program, Fellows can choose to stay connected to the CFP Program network through:

- Alumni activities – From helping to manage and mentor the next cohort of Fellows to alumni events and training, CFP graduates can maintain and expand their professional network across the oversight community.

- Database of participants – The CFP will create and maintain a database of alumni to facilitate post-program networking and future events.
Does nomination by an agency guarantee placement in the CFP Program?

No. This is a competitive program, and agency nominations typically exceed the number of slots available in the program. Candidates will be selected through an assessment of qualifications based on the information provided in their applications.

Who will pay the Fellow’s salary?

During the rotation component of the program, the Fellow maintains his or her position of record and the assignment is non-reimbursable. Therefore, the Fellow’s home agency will pay his or her salary.

Will the Fellow have to/get to travel?

Generally, no. If the host agency would like the participant to travel as part of the rotational assignment, the host agency must fund the travel.

Does the Fellow have to be located in Washington, DC?

No. We encourage participation from all eligible IG professionals, regardless of location. The majority of rotational work duty locations are generally located in Washington, DC, but in today’s environment we have found virtual activities and rotational assignments to be highly successful. Our previous cohort was fully virtual, and this cohort is being planned to be virtual, as well. If there is a requirement to work at the physical location then that requirement will be negotiated between the Fellow and their home agency and the hosting agency of the rotational assignment. Generally, it is the home agency’s responsibility to fund the cost if it is required for a Fellow to be in a temporary duty station for a rotational assignment, since this is a professional development activity for the benefit of the Fellow and their home agency.
Is this a Candidate Development Program?

No – this is a senior leadership developmental program open only to employees within the CIGIE community and includes a rotational assignment component. Although some aspects of the program are similar to a CDP, the CFP is not certified as a CDP by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM).

Does the rotation qualify as a CDP developmental assignment?

The rotational assignment is non-supervisory. If a Fellow is also a participant in a CDP, and the Fellow has a strong supervisory background, the rotation assignment may satisfy CDP requirements. Fellows should check with their CDP coordinator to ensure it meets all applicable requirements.

Will the Fellow’s position be executive level?

CFP rotations are meant to build a foundation for enterprise leadership – giving a Fellow experience working in another agency and culture and work on initiatives at a larger scale and outside of their agency perspective. The Fellow is often one of the only people to work on an assigned initiative and is not in a traditional leadership role with clear authority. Additionally, many of the positions are housed in small teams that do not have support staff. Fellows work all aspects of the program to drive the mission and are not set up to be in a traditional chain of command leadership position.

However, we do advise that the responsibilities be at least one grade level above the Fellow’s current grade. Each rotation should provide significant exposure to senior leaders, the ability to learn and apply new organizational performance tools, and often the opportunity to engage in high-level work on a large cross-agency scale. Fellows have the ability to help craft their positions and identify ways to add vision, value, and leadership to complex, cross-agency challenges, and the experience and type of work is, in part, Fellow-driven.

Will Fellows be promoted as a result of or at completion of this program?

This program does not guarantee promotion or entry into the SES or any other position. However, it provides development and experience that may help the Fellow obtain such a position in the future. Though we cannot make direct correlations, there have been Fellows who have received promotions after completing the program.
What will happen to the Fellow’s home position while on rotation?

The CFP is a non-reimbursable developmental rotation. As such, the Fellow will retain their position at their home agency and will be allowed to return to that position at the conclusion of the rotation. However, nothing prevents the Fellow from assuming a different position following the CFP Program rotation should the Fellow seek out such an opportunity or if the agency engages in a structured talent development plan with the Fellow.

The Fellow and home agency supervisor must ensure the Fellow’s work is transferred fully, or in part, to other employee(s) for the duration of the rotation, depending on whether the rotation is part-time, full-time, or a combination thereof.

Is a security clearance required?

It depends. For the Fellows Program, no, there is no need to possess a certain clearance level to be nominated for the program. However, some rotational assignments may require a specific clearance level.

Who will conduct the Fellow’s performance review?

The Fellow’s home agency supervisor will conduct formal performance reviews, but the rotational assignment supervisor will provide feedback to the Fellow’s home agency supervisor and will work with the Fellow to create a performance plan based off the rotational assignment. The CFP Management Team may also provide input to the home supervisor where appropriate.
What happens if the rotational assignment is not a good fit with the Fellow or the Fellow cannot complete the program for personal/work reasons?

The CFP Program Team will meet regularly with Fellows to check in on their progress and fit with the developmental and rotational components of the program. CFP staff will also receive feedback from rotational assignment supervisors. Should the rotational assignment not be a good fit with the Fellow, CFP staff, in collaboration with the host and home agency CFP Liaisons, will work with the Fellow to modify an existing or identify a new rotational assignment.

Should the Fellow be unable to complete the program for personal or professional reasons, the Fellow must notify the CFP Program Team as soon as possible. CFP staff will work with the Fellow and host supervisor to facilitate a smooth transition and ensure that necessary stakeholders are briefed on status of their project(s) and other work requiring attention. The Fellow’s slot will not be refilled mid-program.
Appendix B: Post Detail Re-Entry to Home Agency Best Practices

Background

Programs like the CFP are recognized as a way to build executive skills, improve flexibility, and create new ideas. The following are best practices of how agencies and Fellows can champion on this experience:

- Both agencies and Fellows stay engaged throughout the year. Routine check-ins with supervisors on how the program is going is a good practice, particularly during the rotation component of the program.
- Opportunities and encouragement from leadership for Fellows to utilize the tools and newfound knowledge at their home agency.

Promising Practices

As the CFP partners with OIGs, several promising practices have come to light. These are shared as options that OIGs nominating candidates to the CFP may consider in developing re-entry plans:

- Identify a career sponsor for the Fellow – this should be a senior executive from the Fellow’s home agency who can help facilitate introductions to other agency executives, engage senior leadership, and help ensure the Fellow has a touch-point and stays visible at the home agency.
- Create a link between home agency executive sponsor and host agency executive supervisor so the former has a good idea of the level of work that the Fellow did while on rotation.
- Create a Fellow utilization agreement between the home agency and Fellow that lays out who from the agency will reach out to the Fellow to stay connected during the rotation, what that frequency will be, what the Fellow can do to stay connected, as well as how the agency will utilize the Fellow’s experience post-rotation.
- Set up briefings with senior executives in the home agency that have interest in or are stakeholders in the Fellow’s success and the CFP.
- Set up a briefing with the home agency Inspector General or other senior officials as appropriate.
- Have a re-entry plan in place before the Fellow’s rotation ends.
- If practical, place Fellow on a central billet at the home agency for the duration of the rotation to allow for ease of transition to a new position post-detail if appropriate.
