

Eric Beatty

Assistant Inspector General for Investigations
National Reconnaissance Office, Office of Inspector General

Eric Beatty was appointed as the Assistant Inspector General for Investigations at the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO), Office of Inspector General (OIG) in February 2011 and had previously served there as the Deputy Assistant Inspector General for Investigations. He was initially hired into NRO OIG as a Special Agent in 2002. He is responsible for establishing the NRO OIG's computer forensic program wherein he also strengthened ties with local law enforcement for investigating allegations of child exploitation involving NRO personnel.

Mr. Beatty has 29 years of combined military and Federal service to include positions US Army and the Central Intelligence Agency. He has a BA from George Mason University and an MPA from Georgetown University.