

Nick Coates
Senior Counsel
U.S. Department of Transportation
Office of Inspector General

Nick Coates is an attorney at the Department of Transportation's Office of Inspector General. He primarily assists special agents and investigators throughout the country with criminal, civil and administrative matters. Prior to joining DOT OIG, Nick was an Assistant Attorney General at the District of Columbia's Office of Attorney General. As an AAG, he defended the District, its agencies and employees in a variety of civil matters, particularly constitutional claims brought under Section 1983.

Nick began his legal career at a private civil litigation firm in Houston, Texas. He joined the Federal government as a Presidential Management Fellow at the Federal Transit Administration's Office of Civil Rights. At FTA, he was responsible for overseeing the EEO and Disadvantaged Business Enterprise programs. As a part of his fellowship, Nick completed details at FTA's Chief Counsel's office where he worked on public-private partnership issues, and as a Special Assistant U.S. Attorney at the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia.

Nick has a B.A. in Pre-Law and Government from the University of Texas at Austin, and received his J.D. from South Texas College of Law.
