

Gene Aloise

Deputy Inspector General

Gene Aloise joined SIGAR on September 4, 2012. As the Deputy Inspector General, he oversees day-to-day operations and assists the Inspector General in executing SIGAR's mission.

38 years at Government Accountability Office

- Domestic and international work
- Last served as Director, U.S. and International Nuclear Security and Cleanup Team.
- Testified before Congress more than 50 times
- Identified more than $8 billion in savings to taxpayers.
- Has appeared on numerous broadcast news outlets, including CBS's "60 Minutes," CNN, BBC, and NPR, and been quoted frequently in The New York Times, The Washington Post, and other major newspapers.

Education

- Bachelor's degree from Rowan University and a
- Master of Public Administration from Temple University.
- Senior Executive Fellows Program at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.