

RICKY ALAN PERRY, JR. is an assistant director on the technical staff of the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board. Alan manages Board projects on lease accounting and implementation. He also serves as the staff liaison to the Accounting and Auditing Policy Committee—a permanent committee that develops and recommends implementation guidance solutions for the federal financial management community under the supervision of the Board.

Prior to joining the Board's research staff in 2019, Alan worked at the Government Accountability Office, where he managed federal financial audits, audited certain federal disaster relief and tax credit programs, and assessed government-wide payment integrity processes and strategies. While with GAO, Alan detailed with the FASAB, managing the Board's tax expenditures project and supporting its education and outreach efforts.

Alan is a Certified Public Accountant licensed in the State of North Carolina and a Certified Government Financial Manager. He is an active member of AGA, serving as a Board member for its Certificate of Excellence in Accountability Reporting program. He holds a master's degree in accounting from North Carolina State University.

In his free time, Alan plays squash, follows jam bands around the southeast and mid-Atlantic, and is an active member of his church. Alan and his wife, Erica, reside in Washington, D.C.
